Beachmont

On Monday, the Beachmont School celebrated Read Across America week. And, we had some very special guests to talk about the importance of reading. Governor Charlie Baker, Bruins great Bob Sweeney, Mayor Arrigo, Fire Chief Bright, Police Chief Guido, and School Committee members Carol Tye and Susan Gravellese all read to our students. Each reader read a selection from the many works of Dr. Seuss. It was a great day to celebrate reading. We are extremely grateful for all our guests, and our students were so excited to have them. We also thank Mrs. Petruzzello for transforming our lobby into a wonderful Seuss-themed space!

Garfield

Thank you to all of our guest readers who came and read to our students on March 2, for Read Across America Day. Our teachers and staff did an amazing job welcoming our visitors.. Garfield Middle School

Garfield Middle School has thoroughly enjoyed providing tours to 5th graders during the course of the past week, highlighting the diverse class offerings and opportunities available within our building, including Video Game Design, Robotics, 3D Modeling, and Financial Literacy. Also this week, Ms. Herwig joined a team from the DESE to conduct a site visit of Simmons Middle School in Salem to assess their use of expanded learning time, while on Tuesday, Danielle Adams, from Health Resources in Action, gave an engaging presentation on the dangers of vapor products to the 6th grade GMS students.

Hill

This past Friday, our fifth graders were excited to explore their potential middle schools for next year. They got to meet some of the staff and students, and have their questions answered. They are all looking forward to next year! Thank you to the faculty and staff at all three middle schools for welcoming our students

Lincoln

The latest edition of The Lincoln News, our student newspaper, has just been published. The students in the Lincoln Newspaper Club have worked hard after school to learn about the writing, editing, and the publishing process of expository text. To read the latest edition of the newspaper, visit the Lincoln School homepage.

Paul Revere

On Friday, February 28, we hosted a parent visit and breakfast for our kindergarten families. We had a great turnout, with nearly 50% of parents and caregivers taking time out of their busy days to participate. On Monday, March 2, Paul Revere students and staff enjoyed celebrating Dr. Seuss' birthday. To help kick this event off, Mayor Brian Arrigo read What Can A Citizen Do?, by Dave Eggers and Shawn Harris, to the K-2 students. Throughout the day, classrooms welcomed a variety of guest readers. Thank you to ALL of our readers who helped us celebrate Read Across America Day: Mayor Arrigo,

School Committee Member Carol Tye, Director of Veteran Affairs Marc Silvestri and several Paul Revere staff and family members. The love of reading filled the air at the Paul Revere!

Revere High School

Over the week a great deal of our Revere High students won honors in their respective competitions. Last Thursday, the indoor girl's and boys' track team, who already took down multiple school records this season, saw two more rewritten! Then on Friday, the Model UN Club earned the most awards out of any high school program who participated in the IMUN Conference at Northeastern! Awards went out to 12 of our students. Cheerleaders claimed another GBL title as coed champions and grand champions at the Wildcat Invitational and Qualifier tournament. Lastly, our Speech and Debate team had a strong showing at Shrewsbury's Mardi Gras tournament last weekend. Congratulations to all of our patriots for their successes!

Rumney Marsh Academy

This week, our 8th grade Civics classes took a closer look at the primary elections and the impact of Super Tuesday. Students had rich discussions about the process, using interactive maps to explore and identify how different cities and states voted on Super Tuesday. Teachers were able to encourage discussions that focused on campaign advertising (amongst other aspects), and students enjoyed the relevance of these particular lessons. In Science news, Ms. Uminski and Ms. Losmozos' 7th grade science classes created their biodomes, self-sustaining ecosystems that show how are matter and energy are cycled. Although they are in the early stages of the biodome process, we are excited to see the plant growth that this project produces! Great job everyone!

Seacoast

On Wednesday, Ms. Day advised the first "Circle Up" program meeting at SeaCoast. The purpose of the program is to develop a strong network of young women at SeaCoast High School by exploring topics related to their health, wellness, and future. "Circle Up" will also include discussions with female guest community leaders. This program will better position our female students to make positive choices in and outside of school and plan for long term success.

Susan B. Anthony

SBA Staff and Students welcomed 5th graders from across our school district for our annual Middle School Tours in helping students and families decide which middle school they would like to attend next year. We would like to recognize and thank Kerry Gallucci for serving as the coordinator and point person for the entire tour process. We would also like to thank all of our SBA Tour Guides from 6th, 7th, and 8th grade, as these students volunteered to take on a leadership role in touring and working with families and students from their elementary alma maters. #sbaprider
